DETAILED ACTION

Election/Restrictions

Applicant's election without traverse of Group I in Paper No. 9 is acknowledged.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 102

The following is a quotation of the appropriate paragraphs of 35 U.S.C. 102 that form the basis for the rejections under this section made in this Office action:

A person shall be entitled to a patent unless –

(e) the invention was described in a patent granted on an application for patent by another filed in the United States before the invention thereof by the applicant for patent, or on an international application by another who has fulfilled the requirements of paragraphs (1), (2), and (4) of section 371(c) of this title before the invention thereof by the applicant for patent.

The changes made to 35 U.S.C. 102(e) by the American Inventors Protection Act of 1999 (AIPA) and the Intellectual Property and High Technology Technical Amendments Act of 2002 do not apply when the reference is a U.S. patent resulting directly or indirectly from an international application filed before November 29, 2000. Therefore, the prior art date of the reference is determined under 35 U.S.C. 102(e) prior to the amendment by the AIPA (pre-AIPA 35 U.S.C. 102(e)).

Claims 1, 4 and 17 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 102(e) as being anticipated by Beller et al, US Patent 5,895,220. Beller '220 discloses an audio phonatory training method comprising alternating between a base (original) sound and a sound converted into parametric form. See column 10 lines 63-67. The parametric signal is the original sound outputted from an audio frequency converter which varies the amplitude and frequency of the original sound, therefore it is processed and attenuated in a particular frequency range. Per claim 4, since the frequency conversion of the original sound is varied according to the amplitude and frequency of the original sound signal, the processed frequency region changes randomly. As to claim 17, the original sounds are phonemes, therefore the processed sounds are between .1 seconds and 7 seconds.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 103

The following is a quotation of 35 U.S.C. 103(a) which forms the basis for all obviousness rejections set forth in this Office action:

(a) A patent may not be obtained though the invention is not identically disclosed or described as set forth in section 102 of this title, if the differences between the subject matter sought to be patented and the prior art are such that the subject matter as a whole would have been obvious at the time the invention was made to a person having ordinary skill in the art to which said subject matter pertains. Patentability shall not be negated by the manner in which the invention was made.

Claim 16 is rejected under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) as being unpatentable over Beller '220 in view of Merzenich et al. Beller '220 teaches an auditory training system comprising alternating between processed and unprocessed sound. Beller '220 does not specify that the interval between the processed and unprocessed (original) sound changes randomly. Merzenich et al discloses a listening training system whereby the interval between sounds heard by the user changes (decreases). Therefore it was already taught in the art of auditory training that varying the time between sounds to be interpreted by the user can increase their ability to comprehend the sounds over time. Thus, it would have been obvious to one of ordinary skill in the art at the time of invention to change the interval length between the original and parametric (processed) sound in the Beller '220 invention.

Allowable Subject Matter

Claim 3 is objected to as being dependent upon a rejected base claim, but would be allowable if rewritten in independent form including all of the limitations of the base claim and any intervening claims.

Conclusion

Applicant's amendment necessitated the new ground(s) of rejection presented in this Office action. Accordingly, THIS ACTION IS MADE FINAL. See MPEP § 706.07(a). Applicant is reminded of the extension of time policy as set forth in 37 CFR 1.136(a).

A shortened statutory period for reply to this final action is set to expire THREE MONTHS from the mailing date of this action. In the event a first reply is filed within TWO MONTHS of the mailing date of this final action and the advisory action is not mailed until after the end of the THREE-MONTH shortened statutory period, then the shortened statutory period will expire on the date the advisory action is mailed, and any extension fee pursuant to 37 CFR 1.136(a) will be calculated from the mailing date of the advisory action. In no event, however, will the statutory period for reply expire later than SIX MONTHS from the date of this final action.
